

My name is Boyan Mak Mihaylov, born in 1977, Sofia, Bulgaria. I became a Christian in 1991 after the breakdown of socialism in Eastern Europe. Before this I was not believing in God and opposed Christianity as we grew up in a dialectical-materialistic driven society in which atheism was almost a state position.

I started this website during my study in BETI as I gathered more and more theological sources and decided to put them online with the hope the website to become a free resource to students in theology throughout the world.
