Q: Which denomination or religious confession does www.TheologyGateway.info represent?

A: None. The site is oriented towards Christian theology as a whole. A broad number of Christian denominations (confessions) are represented including Roman-Catholic, Eastern-Orthodox, Protestant, Charismatic/Pentecostal, free and etc. You will find conservative and liberal research sources here, critical or conservative concerning biblical scholarship. The way to go is to designate the kind of source so the student of theology can choose by himself how or why to trust the source.

Some of the author's recommendations may represent authors views: a conservative trinitarian, evangelical, non-Calvinist, classic pentecostal with a high appreciation of historical orthodoxy who believes the doctrine off all 7 ecumenical church counsels concerning the Trinity and Christ. (I know it sounds strange ...)

Q: Who is the author of this site?

A: Click here .

Q: Which are the sources of www.TheologyGateway.com? Which sites do you point to?

Primarily we point to http://www.archive.org/ which contains a variety of theological and exegetical books, www.ccel.org which is one of the biggest Christian libraries on-line and other sites which are useful. Also we will link to books.google.com where you can read parts of copyrighted books on-line. Also we put links to all websites on the Internet that are important to the study of theology. The purpose of the site is to grow bigger and bigger.

Q: Do you plan to translate the site in other languages?

Yes, in Russian. Maybe also in Bulgarian and German. For now only Google Translation is available via the home page.

Q: Can I submit an article to the site?

Yes, contact me (Boyan) at webmaster@theologygateway.info. The article must be in academic style having a list of on-line or hard copy resources regardless of what Christian denomination it is. It can not contain offensive to other Christians material or promote a non-christian world-view. We can credit you by putting a link to your website (blog, forum or other). Also you remain the holder of the rights (copyright, copyleft or other license) according to the license you would like to use. For now we can not afford to pay you.

Q: Can I make a suggestion for the improvement of www.TheologyGateway.info?

Yes, on webmaster@theologygateway.info. We would very much appreciate what you think of the site and if you offer some great improvements to design, style and functionality we can credit you. If you find a misspelled word, an error in some fact or a link leading nowhere we will try to make changes ASAP.

Q: Why do you have advertisements? Aren't they annoying?

Because we don't charge anything for the information in the site and we have put an amount of time working on www.theologygateway.info. Also we are still popularizing the site. if you know a convenient way to advertise the site, please, tell us!

Q: I have found an inconvenient ad, link, image ... Can I inform you?

Yes, it will be removed ASAP. We already removed one. We use strict rules the site to be kids safe and pure of any vulgar content..

Q: I am web mastering / owning a Christian / educational website. Can I link to www.TheologyGateway.info?

Yes, surely. Our site is new and we need more sites linking back to us.

Q: I am web mastering / owning a Christian / educational website. Can I request my site to be linked on www.TheologyGateway.info?

Yes. All entries are manually reviewed and placed. Please, contact webmaster@theologygateway.info, Boyan Mihaylov. Give us your URL of your site and tell us how it is connected to Christian theology. If you don't see a suitable category we may create one.